AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Page 12:

Please replace the paragraph commencing at line 7 of page 12 with the following amended paragraph:

The appropriate plugin may depend upon the operating system utilized by the destination location. For example, a first plugin may extract the information contained in the data file shown in figure 6 and rehydrate the information into an object recognized by the first operating system. Furthermore, a second plugin may be used to extract and rehydrate the same information into an object recognized by a second operating system. In one embodiment of the invention, a plugin or parser may be attached to the software envelope. In another embodiment, the plugin may be contained within the software envelope.
